Accommodation

Accommodation is sought in advance for students who complete and return the Accommodation Request Form, together with the International Exchange Student Application Form.

It is possible to book accommodation for the full academic year or for one semester but usually not for a period less than one semester. Payment is due for the full period booked.

A deposit is payable when accommodation is allocated. This is refunded at the end of the rental period, less any charges that may have accrued, e.g. agreed cleaning charges and/or damages. Please note the deposit may be non-refundable in the event of cancellation. Terms and conditions vary depending on the accommodation booked and you should always read any rental agreement / lease carefully before signing it.

You are advised to return your application form as early as possible, as accommodation is both limited and allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.

Fees/Cost of living

Approximate cost per week

It is estimated that a budget of €160 - €200 per week covers accommodation, meals and other living costs. Individual budgets vary, however, depending on the cost of accommodation and level of personal expenditure.

Accommodation Plasgwyn & Cyncoed Halls of Residence: Self-catered room with en-suite bathroom.
Fees/Cost of living Plasgwyn and Cyncoed Halls of Residence £3,480.00 Please note that this price is for 40 weeks and includes internet connection. One distinct advantage to studying and living in Cardiff is the fact that the cost of living is less expensive than it is in many other large cities in Britain. In fact, a recent survey by the Royal Bank of Scotland showed that Cardiff is the most cost effective place to be a student in the whole of the UK. Once you have paid your course fees and accommodation fees, you will still need to be able to pay for a number of other essential items. You should consider: Food, Books, Travel, Clothes, Entertainment As an approximate guide, we recommend that you budget GBP 5,500 - 6,500 per year for accommodation and living expenses. This figure is an approximate guideline to how much a typical student might spend whilst living and studying in Cardiff. It will vary according to your lifestyle and individual requirements.
