

Conference Paper Publication

Following the conference, participants will be invited to submit papers to be considered for inclusion in a special edition of Australian Historical Studies, to be published in 2009. Papers will be assessed by referees and a selection of the best submissions will be published. Outstanding papers beyond the usual scope of the journal may still be eligible for inclusion in this special edition.

Australian Historical Studies is a Thomson ISI listed refereed journal dealing with Australian, New Zealand and Pacific regional issues. First published in 1940, it is now one of Australia's oldest and best known academic journals, receiving contributions from leading academics in the field.
