Location

Monterrey, Mexico

Campus Description

UDEM is located within Monterrey metropolitan area, in the municipality of San Pedro Garza García. The country's most important corporate headquarters are located in this area. It is therefore an important financial center.

Monterrey is a fast-growing city in every respect; it stands out for its museums and art galleries, large theaters, tourist resorts and commercial centers. There are, as well, about 80 public and private sport clubs for healthy recreation and for practicing a number of sports.

The city is at an altitude of 538 meters above sea level, located 1,082 kilometers north of Mexico City, and 250 kilometers from the United States border. The city is situated in a valley, surrounded by four main mountains: Cerro de la Silla (Saddle Mountain, the symbol of the city), Cerro de las Mitras, Sierra Madre Oriental, and Cerro del Topo Chico.

The metropolitan area, which has a population of approximately 4 million inhabitants, is made up of the city of Monterrey (center), San Nicolás de los Garza (northern zone), Escobedo (north, northwest), Apodaca (north, northeast), San Pedro Garza García (south, southwest; where UDEM is located) and Santa Catarina (west).

The Campus is readily accessible by car, public transportation or one of UDEM's student transportation service routes. For those who drive to school, our University has large and safe parking facilities.

Accommodation Individual house or apartment This is the most expensive option, because living alone always implies more expenses, since you have to pay them alone; but it also means more responsibility and a high level of maturity. Usually we do not recommend the new student to live alone, because the adaptation period can be a little hard and it's always good to have company. The approximate cost is $3000 a month for one room, $6000 pesos a month for two rooms. Shared apartment or house This is one of the best options. It gives you plenty of freedom, it's cheaper, and you end up sharing more than the costs, because you end up making good friends. This is a good way to get to know a little more of the Mexican culture, so we highly recommend that you live with Mexican students from other states of this country. Living with people that you don't initially know can be difficult at first (especially if you're used to having your privacy), but if you all establish the rules of the game this can be an excellent experience. The cost may vary between $3000 and $6000 pesos a month, plus the services, and all this would be paid between you and your flat-mates. Home stay This is a "complete immersion" in the Mexican culture. You have to be willing to follow the rules established in the family, like a certain curfew on the weekends, letting them know where you are and if you'll be coming for lunch (list of rules).

Fees/Cost of living The first expenses you will encounter when you arrive, if you didn't arrange for someone to pick you up at the airport, will be the taxi (he will probably take American dollars, as well as any hotel, but not another currency); whoever you are renting a room from will probably ask for at least one month in advance, so you must have at least two monthly payments ready. Just so you have an idea, two months of rent will probably be around $8000 MXP
