

The Early Achievers' Program (EAP) recognises the achievements and community contributions made by prospective students, of both school leaver and non-school leaver backgrounds.

It's a great way for prospective students to gain a place in the undergraduate course of their choice with students assessed on their potential for undertaking tertiary study successfully.

Whether it be volunteering in a local cultural, sporting or religious group or providing care to someone in need, if applicants have the enthusiasm to succeed, they are the type of student that the university would like to welcome. Also taken into consideration are community contributions, employment experience and professional courses that have been undertaken.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their EAP application ahead of usual university offers, allowing them to enjoy their summer with the confidence of knowing they have secured a place at Australian Catholic University.

Welcome to Strathfield

It is my pleasure to introduce you to ACU's North Sydney and Strathfield campuses.

Together these campuses host nearly 7000 students and offer first-class programs in arts, business, economics, education, environmental science, exercise science, health sciences, international development and global studies, social science, social work, psychology, counselling, theology and visual art and design.

A public university which is open to all, ACU reflects a rich history of educating and serving our communities and our professions dating from the 1800s, inspired by more than 2000 years of Catholic intellectual tradition. Having relatively small campuses, ACU is recognised for its supportive and nurturing learning environment. It is also well known for its ability to produce graduates of the highest order; graduates who think critically, are guided by social justice principles and are highly sought after in the job market.

When you study at ACU you can rest assured that a fulfilling career awaits you. One of our greatest strengths is our close links with industry, which gives you the chance to gain hands-on experience in the workplace. Our programs are taught by high-quality and dedicated staff, many of whom have an open-door policy and are international leaders in their respective disciplines.

At our North Sydney and Strathfield campuses, you will find an extensive range of support services, including academic and careers advisers, campus ministry and counselling services. We also encourage and reward our students who actively engage with their community. Both campuses are easily accessible by public transport. These two campuses have undergone recent upgrades, and students are enjoying great improvements to the grounds and recreation areas. We are also continuously looking into developing new courses, and next year will see the Bachelor of Applied Public Health and the Bachelor of Nursing/Bachelor of Business Administration offered at the North Sydney Campus and the commencement of the Bachelor of Arts (Psychology), Bachelor of Arts and Economics, Bachelor of Global Studies (dual degrees) and the Bachelor of International Development Studies programs at the Strathfield Campus.

To complete the university experience, our student associations organise a fun-packed calendar of social events, including annual balls and sports carnivals, to give you a break from your studies and the opportunity to socialise with friends.

I warmly invite you to visit us at ACU, speak to staff and students, and take a tour of the campus facilities.

Professor Marea Nicholson
Associate Vice-Chancellor (Sydney)
