Call for papers

We understand that most universities require staff to have a paper accepted before funding conferences and travel.

With limited budgets and the need for maximum preparation for an overseas conference in mind, a call for papers will be released in early 2023.

A rolling process of acceptances will be implemented so that attendees can be accepted at the earliest possible date so you can apply for funds within the relevant budget cycle for your university.

We look forward to welcoming you to Australian Catholic University and Sydney in 2024. For more information, email: hos.business@acu.edu.au
