

More than just surveys. Discover the ECSI Project.

ECSI for Beginners is a fully online professional learning module that is ideal for practitioners seeking an introduction to the Enhancing Catholic School Identity (ECSI) Project.

Designed by ACU and KU Leuven, and specifically formulated for Catholic school teachers and leaders, it can provide professional accreditation hours* and is also recognised as prior learning in our masters programs.

You will undertake the ESCI surveys, learn to understand them, and be guided through interpreting your data.

The ECSI for Beginners learning module is undertaken online at your own pace over 15 weeks, with support from ACU theologians. A member of our staff will introduce you to the module, respond to your questions, and help you unpack your learnings once the module is complete.

THE BENEFITS

Many Australian Catholic schools utilise the ECSI Project, especially for school review purposes. This module will help you understand ECSI and its implications for your school. Completing the module is equivalent to:

- 50 hours of study for annual religious education accreditation*.
- One third of the academic requirements for THCT605: Enhancing Catholic Identity: Introducing the Leuven Project*.

*50 accreditation hours are subject to the approval of your Catholic education office

*Unit available within ACU's Master of Professional Studies in Theology and Master of Theological Studies programs

THEOLOGICAL FOUNDATIONS FOR ENHANCING CATHOLIC SCHOOL IDENTITY

Our suite of purpose-built programs around enhancing Catholic identity, has been developed with KU Leuven, and in conjunction with Catholic education partners.

Our programs promote a thorough understanding of the theological foundations, research evidence, and constructive possibilities of the ECSI Project.
